

Driving Directions to Sri Chinmoy Races at Flushing Meadows Park

Through 2019, some of the entrances to the section of park north of Meadow Lake are closed.

Access to the parking lot next to “Race-Day Central” is via the route shown below. Due to one-way roads, exiting the park is via another route.

Signage is almost nonexistent inside the park, & GPS apps such as Google maps, etc. do not recognize some roads inside park. Use these maps & instructions instead:

To Parking Lot (map on left – follow arrows)

Beginning from westbound 69th Rd., just after the intersection of Park Dr. East:

After 0.1 mi, take exit on right for “Grand Central Parkway / RFK Bridge”

After 0.1 mi, take the unmarked exit ramp on the right. Merge onto park road (Meadow Lake Dr.)

After 0.3 mi, bear right to stay on Meadow Lake Dr. (don’t bear left, you’ll end up on the Grand Central Parkway!)

The first section of road is a little rough and often has big puddles, but you’re heading the right way.

After 0.6 mi, bear left at the fork.

After 0.1 mi, turn right into the parking lot

Exiting Park (map below– follow arrows)

Exit the parking lot on the opposite side, through the short narrow laneway that leads to the circle.

At the end of the bridge, turn left, then make an immediate left onto the small road that parallels the bridge.

After 60 meters, turn right onto Meridian Rd. to go to the Grand Central Parkway. Or turn left to go to the Van Wyck or Long Island Expressways.
